

How rain occurs

1. The sun heats the ocean.
2. Ocean water evaporates and rises into the air.
3. The water vapour cools and condenses to become droplets, which become clouds.
4. If enough water condenses, the drops become heavy enough to fall to the ground as rain and snow.
5. Some rain collects in groundwells. The rest flows through rivers back into the ocean.

